

My precious friend, the time has come to say goodbye. May the blessings that you have experienced through your relationship with me multiply many times over and lead you much, much further—to the countless layers of magnificence, wonder and possibility that await you in your precious years ahead!

I love you—forever!

Bill Bauman